The Best Places To Travel In India

There are places spread all across India if you really want to see what India has to offer to its tourist you really need to have plenty of time.

If we start from North the head or crown of India: Jammu and Kashmir starts with wonderful cliffs, feel valleys and plenty of snowfall. Then the 'Dev Bhoomi' Uttarakhand that consists of various places of pilgrimage for different religions. Then Punjab the capital of Sikhism in India has the most worshipped gurudwara 'The Golden Temple'. Also don't forget to visit the 'Parathe Wali Galli' in Amritsar that might please your appetite. Then UP we have Agra and the famous Taj Mahal, but the hand woven clothes are a must souvenir. The city of Varansi is known to be the oldest city of world and it is believed that God's themselves built this city and resided here. The Holy river of Ganga also passes from this city.

In the North-East of India: we have great variety in the form of the Seven-sisters. The culture of Sikkim, Nagaland, Mizoram, Assam and Nagaland. You get to enjoy the scenic beauty of green lush hills, along with the very famous tea of Darjeeling. The Himalayas also offer a great view. The cultural dance that the people practice here is also worth seeing. Also we should not forget about Bengal. The most popular things offered here are great fish and innumerable varieties of sweets. Also the Temples here are a must visit. Also the temples of Visakhapatnam and Orrisa are famous too.

Then the western-India: we have Rajasthan, the most densely populated desert of the world. You get to enjoy camel rides, the delicate wildlife and a very Royal train called "Place on Wheel" which covers the most of the major tourist places in Rajasthan. But it's very expensive so only a few people can afford it. Maharashtra is also a state blessed with historical monuments of medieval era. Like the fort built by Chattrapati Shivaji Maharaj, also caves like Ajanta and Ellora from Ancient era. The town of Pandharpur is a major Religious city, where temples of God Vitthal are found. Gujrat is also a state with a vast cultural diversity. The Rann of Kachh is the most famous tourist spot. The despoition of salt has made the ground white and it is also called 'The Moon on Earth'. There are also various national parks among the is the Gir National Park the biggest reserve of Asian Lions. The Ghagra-Choli (a local dress) is hand woven and is in high demand all round the year. The state of Goa is world famous for tourists and enjoys the tourist attention all round the year. This the only place in India where casinos are legal due to tourist requests. The beaches here are famous and so is the sea food. The water sports are also a great fun and a must try.

The last but not the least the Southern India: this is the place with the most numbers of temples like Tirupati Balaji and Tirumala. The heritage here is very vast. The Mariana Beach is the longest Beach of India, the backwaters of Kerala and the beaches of Tamil Nadu. This all combines to give you the perfect package.
